SUBJECT.

Excess amount required for feeding in His Highness the Maharaja's Chattram at Tirupati, North Arcot District.

From

The Dharmadarsi, H.H the Mysore Maharajas Chantries Tirupati.

No. 59 Dated 16th January 1905

A sum of Rs. 108 per mensem was the usual feeding allotment in His Highness the Maharaja's Chattram at Tirupati in the North Arcot District, in addition to Rs. 600 and Rs 150 fixed respectively for the Brahmotsava and Mukkoti Utsavas every year. It having been found that this small Tasdik allotment of Rs. 100 per mensem was quite inadequate for feeding the very large number of pilgrims resorting to the Chattram, which is the only Institution of the kind on the Tirupati Hill, the Government were pleased to sanction in 1902 an additional annual grant of

(8) In Govt Order No 1043 Mug 72-99 d: 12th April 1901 (Slip 7) it was directed that no travellers resorting to the Chattram at Tirupati should be refused food for want of funds.

Rs. 3000 for this purpose, the same being newly provided in the Muzrai Budget. The accompanying list B shews the monthly excess expenditure incurred for feeding since July 1902.

2. The Dharmadarsee , Mr, Sesha Iyer, in his communication to this Office No. 59 dated 16th January 1905 stated that , during the month of December 1904 more than 5000 Brahmins assembled for the Madhwa Sabha held at Tiruchanur between the 26th and the 29th idem, there being no plague restrictions this year; that the Sabha and the Mukkoti Dwadasi having taken place at different intervals this year the influx of Brahmins resorting to the Chattram was very great and that ¾ ths of the people that attended the Sabha went up the Hills and that they all had to be fed in the Chattram; and that owing to// the scarcity of rains this year, ghee, vegetables &c, were sold at very high rates. In these circumstances, he requested that, as a special case this year, the excess expenditure incurred in the months of September, October and December 1904, as noted in the margin, viz, already made in the Budget.

3. As however, money was available from the Budget allotment, I paid up the excesses marked as (i) & (ii) above ~~and relating~~ which related to the two Brahmotsavams celebrated in September and October 1904, and reserved the bills for December 1904 amounting to Rs. 998-0-1 for obtaining new sanction as the amount was too large to be met from the ordinary allotment. The excess bills of the months of January, February March & April 1905 were also duly paid up as shown in the margin, a small sum of Rs. 13-15-3 having been paid from savings to make up the amount for April. Thus the Budget

January Rs 340-4-10.
February " 347-7-7
March " 293-8-6.
April " 743-7-8 (including the sum of Rs.13-15-3 paid from saving) allotment of Rs. 3000 made for the year 1904-05 became exhausted after the payments specified above.

4. The excess bill for May 1905, amounting to Rs.327-7-9, and the bills for Rs.998-01 for the month of December 1904 referred to above, (total Rs. 1325-7-10) have yet to be paid, and this amount having been expended over and above the sanctioned grant for 1904-05, sanction for the said amount of Rs. 1325-7-10 as an additional grant for this year is respectfully solicited.

5. The bill for June will be paid in the month of July from the sanctioned grant of the new year, and no separate sanction therefor is necessary.

6. Various causes contributed to the large increase of expenditure now in question, the chief of which was the comparative immunity from plague, of the greater part of Southern India and the large numbers of pilgrims who visited Upper Tirupati. There were 2 separate Brahmotsavams, one in September and the other in October, as generally happens once in 3 years, and the previous similar occasion which occurred in 1901, an additional sum of Rs. 600 was sanctioned by the Dewan by wire for the purpose. The Mukkoti Ekadasi and the Madhwa Sabha, which generally fall at the same time, happened on different dates last year with an interval of a week between as shown in the margin, so that many a pilgrim who attended the Mukkoti festival stayed longer than usual on the Hills, then went to the Sabha and came back again to worship the Deity on the Hills . The attendance at the Madhva Sabha too was unusually large on the occasion in consequence of the presence of the son of the Swamigalu of the Sri Uttaradi Matt.

Madhwa Sabha 26th to 29th Decr.

7. Notwithstanding the exceptionally large numbers who were fed at H.H.the Maharaja's Chattram under the circumstances stated above, the charity was efficiently and satisfactorily dispensed by the Govt's subordinates at Tirupati as was evidenced by the numerous testimonials in the Visitors' Book which were submitted for information to the Dewan thro' the 2nd Councillor with my No dated 21st January 1905. It is stated that no

December 1904 and this ~~number~~ statement is supported by the daily accounts received in this Office.

8. Special sanction over and above the Budget grant is therefore respectfully requested for the sum of Rs. 1325-7-10 referred to above.

9. The Budget grant of the current Official year (1905-06) will most probably be found insufficient for the needs of the year, as the prices of food grains have risen very high in the North Arcot District in which Tirupati is situated.

Submitted to His Highness.

The Muzrai Secretary's Note explains fully the facts of the case. An excess amount of Rs.1,325-7-10 over the budget grant, is required to meet the additional expenditure incurred on account of feeding charges in His Highness the Maharaja's Chattram at Tirupati, for the year 1904-'05. This amount may be sanctioned as an additional grant.

It is not desirable to limit, as suggested by the Second Councillor, the expenditure on feeding in a place which has such sacred associations and where according to the existing ideas, the feeding of travellers is regarded as an act of merit and not as one of mere charity to the poor. The excess expenditure has no doubt the disadvantage of being an uncertain item, but the comparatively large excess of this year is only due to the special circumstances mentioned by the Muzrai Secretary. Under normal conditions the excess is not likely to be very large, and no restriction is called for, at any rate, for the present.

Excess expenditure of Rs.1,325-7-10 in His Highness the Maharaja's Chattrum at Tirupati under feeding charges, during 1904-05.

Order.

The excess expenditure is Sanctioned in view of the Special Causes Stated. It is no doubt difficult to limit strictly the expenditure at the Chattram but it should I think be carefully watched. I should like a Statement showing the annual expenditure for the last 10 years.

Statement.

As directed in W.P. No. 1,040 of 1905's Order dated 7th August 1905, the excess expenditure incurred in W.P. the Maharaja's Chattram at Tirupati in the North Arcot District, during the last 10 years from 1895-96 to 1904-05 is herewith submitted. From the statement it will be seen that during the first 7 years, sums not exceeding the Tasdik Grant viz., Rs1396-12 per annum were expended, as there was no provision to meet any excess expenditure. The result was that only some of the applicants for food were fed and feeding in the Chattram was stopped for some days in the month.

In January 1898, the Tasdik Patti of the Chattram was raised to Rs1,950/- per annum, Rs1,200 being for daily feeding and Rs600 and Rs150 for the Brahmotsavam and Mukkoti festivals respectively. Hence the expenditure of the full amount of Rs1,950 during each of the two succeeding years 1898-99 and 1899-1900.

In April 1901, an Order was issued by 1.
Government that no traveller should be refused food for want of funds and that bills of actual excess expenditure over the fixed allotment should be sent to Government every month for sanction. Hence the expenditure began to increase from that date,. Such bills of actual excess expenditure were being specially passed by Government and in 1902, a provision of ₹3,000 was made in the Muzrai Budget for such excess expenditure. The total provision for the entire feeding of the year thus became raised to ₹4,950 and the figures from the year 1900-01 to 1903-04 are within the fixed allotment of ₹4950/- But in 1904-05, owing to the special circumstances explained in pages 1 to 6 of my Note , the expenditure rose to ₹6,275-7-10, and the increase was graciously sanctioned by His Highness.

As prices range very high in the current year 1905-06 also, the Tasdik of the Brahmotsavam [illegible] ₹1,000 and that of the a[illegible] it is apprehended, be exceeded to the extent of nearly ₹1,000/-.

Every possible check is being exercised over the expenditure, but the high prices and the large influx of pilgrims render the large increase in the expenditure unavoidable.

facilities of communication, coupled with the fact that every pilgrim gets fed, the expenditure under this head is sure to increase steadily and that therefore some limit must be fixed. They are therefore pleased to direct that, except in years of scarcity and high prices, the present allotment of Rs. 4950 per annum should not be exceeded.

Government Proceedings No. 1257-9 dated 5th September 1905, sanctioning the excess expenditure of Rs. 1325-7-10 incurred over and above the budget allotment during the year 1904-1905 on account of Santarpane in H.H.the Maharaja's Chatti at Tirupati, North Arcot District.

Order thereon No. 325-2 Dated Camp Mysore, 6. 2. 1906.

It is observed that originally the annual allotment for feeding in the Chaitram at Tirupati was Rs. 1396-12-2, that in January 1898 it was raised to Rs. 1950 and that in 1902 it was further increased to Rs. 4950 as noted in the margin. It further appears that from the year 1900-1901 (in which an order was issued by Government that no traveller should be refused food for want of funds) up to 1903-04 the expenditure did not exceed Rs. 4950, but that in 1904-05 owing to the special circumstances explained in the Government Order read above, the expenditure rose to Rs. 6275-7-10.

Rs. 1200 Usual Tasdik.
" 3000 Provision for excess expenditure.
" 600 For Brahmotsavam.
" 150 For Mukkoti.

Rs. Total 4950.
